The St. Louis Dramatic Club, It is a bold undertaking for amateurs to attempt a performance of such a play as "Hamlet," which has wrecked many professionals who sought to master the subtleties of the title roll; but the members of the St. Louis Dramatic circle did it last evening before a large audience at St. Louis Hall, after careful preparation, and they certainly acquitted themselves in a commendable manner. While the presentation under such auspices does not call for criticism, in view of the intelligent and conscientious interpretation that was given, it is proper to say that especially good was Otto F. Andle's impersonation of the melancholy Dane, and Frank L. Mayer as the Ghost. The former has unmistakable talent, a strong dramatic face and a good stage presence. With proper training he might attain to more than ordinary success as an actor. Mr. Mayer was quite effective in the scene with Hamlet in the churchyard, his reading being very meritorious. The play will be repeated this and to-morrow ~~even~~ evenings.

The Buffalo Express 27 Dec 1887 p. 3

"Hamlet" by Home Talent, The first of a series of three entertainments, well worthy of public patronage will be presented at St. Louis Hall this evening by the St. Louis Dramatic Circle.

Shakespeare's "Hamlet" will be given by this talented young company with Mr. Otto F. Andle in the title role, Mr. Edward F. Mischka as Laertes, Mr. John F. Mayer as Claudius, Mr. Charles M. Weyard as Polonius, Mr. Frank L. Mayer as the Ghost, Miss Annie Bentler as Gertrude, Mrs. Emily O'Neil as Ophelia, and Miss Bohumila Andile as Player Queen; with capable persons in the various other roles. The members of the Circle are for the most part graduates of the school connected with the St. Louis Church, and as their intention is to raise money for the building fund, it is but proper that their efforts should meet with a hearty reception. The performance will be repeated to-morrow and Thursday evenings.

Commercial Advertiser 27 Dec 1887, p. 3

"Hamlet" by the St. Louis Amateurs, The first of three performances of the great tragedy of "Hamlet" by the talented amateurs of the St. Louis Dramatic Circle, will be given at St. Louis Hall this evening, and a performance of much merit is promised. The cast will be as follows:

Hudson's Latest Play. With a Buffalo Cast it Opened the New Opera-house at East Aurora. Special to the Buffalo Express. East Aurora, Jan 26. - An event of much interest to the residents of East Aurora was the opening of the new opera house. An orchestra composed of local musicians furnished the music which was well received and exceedingly creditable to all the players. Before the rising of the curtain the Hon. F. R. Whaley delivered an eloquent dedicatory address which was enthusiastically received by his fellow-townsman. The play presented was "Legal Resources." It was put upon the stage by Mr. John H. Meech of Buffalo, under the personal direction of the author, Mr. William G. Hudson, author of "A Man Among Men" and "A Notable Case." The cast was as follows: Chester K. Harlowe and John Marsters, attorneys and counselors, Mr. William C. Cowper and Mr. E. H. Thayer; Prince Kzoupiere and Roddon Michaelovitch, of the Russian Legation, Mr. E. H. Spencer.

and Mr. Robert Saturn; Evergreen Dale, a friend of the president, Mr. C. M. Froke; Arthur Metcher, the placid young man, Mr. R. O. Meech; Tom Bently, the law student. Mr. Stewart W. Murray; Joe, the office boy, Master Harry Mortimer; the secretary of state, Mr. Edward Skillette; Countess Murra Nalehoff; Miss Dingens; Flossie Dale, the pet, Miss Setile Davenport; Miss Melinda Harlowe, spinster, Miss Blanche Seymour. The audience considered the play full of good hits and striking situations, the dialogue clever and the development of the plot full of surprise and interesting turns. The plot turns upon the negotiations of an extradition treaty between the United States and Russia as effecting the fortune of a persecuted Russian Count (illegible). The climax comes when the attorney ends all difficulties by marrying the Countess and placing her as the wife of an American citizen beyond the power of the Russian Government.

The acting of Messrs Cowper and Spenser is deserving of especial mention, as is also that of Miss Dingens. Messrs Froke and Meech filled their parts in a most credible manner. The play will be given in Buffalo next week. Much praise is due the owners of the Opera-house, the Hon. H. H. Persons, A. H. Griggs and Ezra Smith for their energy and enterprise in supplying this long felt want.

Gatling Notes

Proceedings Pushed to Perfect the Company's Title.

Many Applications for Sites.

A Newspaper, a Hotel, and a Church Soon to Be Established - Building Certificates

George M. Bailey, for the Gatling Town Site Company, yesterday took title to the Harriet Thompson farm of 35 acres at Idlewood. The payment of $3,500 was tendered in gold coin. This is the second farm deeded for the Town Site Company. The contracts for the delivery of the other farms comprising the 1,200 acres bought for the company sell for payments every month until June next, and the Company has money in the bank to meet its January and February payments, which will probably be made before they are due.

Licker & Wing have about half completed the survey of the entire town site tract at Gatling. Two forces of surveyors are at work, the men boarding at the hotel at North Evans. Each farm will be surveyed by itself, as well as the tract as a whole, and levels are taken at every 500 feet.

Mr. Donald Andrews of Buffalo is making plans for a hotel to be built before spring at Batling, to cost about $18,000.

Ex-Justice Charles Daniels is now preparing the contract for the transfer from George M. Bailey, trustee, to the Town Site Company of all his right, title and interest in his deeds and contracts for the 3 farms bought in the Townships of Hamburg and Eden.

The Town Site Company has agreed to give to the Laymen's Missionary League of Buffalo a lot for an Episcopal chapel at Batling, the League having made a formal application therefore, and having agreed to begin holding services as soon as the house of worship is ready.

"Batling Weekly News"

Mr. Word, formerly editor and proprietor of the "News" at North Tonawanda is preparing to issue a weekly paper to be known as the "Batling Weekly News", the initial number which will appear within 10 days. The first few numbers of the paper will be printed in Buffalo, but the plant will be removed to Batling in due time. This is a bona fide newspaper venture, as Mr. Wink owns the type and presses necessary and goes into the enterprise of his own volition.

Mr. Bailey reports having received a number of applications from persons who contemplate erecting factories or removing their business to Gatling from other points. Several applications have also been received from persons who desire to "keep store" at Gatling.

"Julius Caesar"

Shakespeare's Tragedy Presented at Two Theaters
Last Night

Charles Harford and Frederick Wade as Marc Antony - Elihu Spencer and Charles Herman as Cassius - Louis Jones as Brutus - Tonight's Play

Charles Harford achieved a triumph at the Star Theater last night in his impersonation of Marc Anthony. His success was genuine, for when he first appeared on the scene he received no recognition. In the scene of the murder he began to ~~receive~~ reveal his splendid powers, first in his grief over Caesar's body; then, when the slayer's had departed, in his curse of them and his vow of vengeance. But it was in the fourth scene - the scene of Marc Anthony's oration over Caesar's corpse - that he rose to the sublime. It was a faultless piece of reading and of acting. The scene has probably never been performed in a more powerful, truthful manner, and no actor of this generation has equalled Mr. Harford in it. At the end of the second and third acts the curtain was rung up again and again in response to general outbursts of applause.

A great charm of all Mr. Harford's impersonations is his fidelity to nature. The common actor imagines the ancient Roman to have been a stalking fellow of mousing speech, a thing different from the human animal of to-day. Mr. Harford embodies Marc Antony as he might embody a man of like character who had lived last week. The oration over Caesar's body illustrates this point. It is acting so transformed by the divine touch of nature that the illusion is perfect; Marc Antony, and he alone, stands above the howling, fuddled mob. It is such acting as is rarely seen nowadays in the presentation of the classic drama. Mr. Harford has every right to call himself a star, for he has won his present eminence by sheer merit.

Much interest was manifested in the appearance of three players who call Buffalo their mother city. . . . Robert Saturn's Casca, too, was a very creditable piece of acting, showing great improvement over his former efforts in Buffalo. . . .

The play was put upon the stage with beautiful scenery, the garden of Brutus, the Senate Chamber, and the Plains of Philippi being especially noteworthy. The mob in this production of "Julius Caesar" is the most lifelike aggregation of plebeians seen on the local stage in many a day. In the great scene of Marc Antony's oration, the mob did much to heighten the effect of Mr. Harford's splendid acting. "Julius Caesar" will be repeated to-night and to-morrow afternoon.

The Great Gatling Boom

In Nov 1892 Geo. M. Bailey of the Bailey Land Investment Co., 24 Erie Street, Buffalo, got in touch with a group of New York City men who organized the Gatling Ordnance Co. of 59 Wall St. and they decided to promote a large foundry employing 1,000 men, at Idlewood Station on the Penn. Railroad in the town of Hamburg. The Gatling people capitalized at $1,000,000 and then Mr. Bailey organized the Gatling Town Site Co. at $1,100,000 to handle the real estate.

The matter was kept secret till Jan 1893 when they sent Mr. Daniel McIntosh to buy the land. His aides were Dr. Geo. Abbott of Hamburg, Charles Roberts and N.B. Wood of Angola, John Kinney who was an assessor and Fayette Read, a justice of the peace, both from North Evans. Mr. Bailey took a position in a farm house to furnish funds and to be useful as possible and as a result within 4 days contracts were filed with the Erie County Clerk for the purchase of all the land between the 18 Mile Creek, the Lake View Road and the Penn. Railroad. There were 34 farms with a total of 1,200 acres.

Immediately they began a huge promotion program covering all Western N.Y. Even published their newspaper "The Gatling Weekly News". They were selling these things, stock in the Gatling Co., stock in the Town Site Co., and building lots.

The climax came on Sat. June 3, 1893 when they planned a big galaday. Dr. Gatling laid the corner stone of the great Gatling Steel Plant. They had a big tent holding 1,000 people for serving luncheons, special trains were run from Buffalo and at 1 P.M. the auction of building lots conducted by Mr. Jere Johnson Jr. President of the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange. As this was 67 years ago not many remember it, but Bob Hocking remembers seeing them play the old shell game and Frank Frost remembered hearing the cannon shots from his home in North Evans. There was another speculator there. He was selling stock in a one-rail-road. He had a wire strung from the North Creek road to the high bluffs of 18 Mile Creek with a small sample car on it.

Before this the Town Site people had surveyed all the land between the Versailles road and the Penn. Railroad and between the 18 Mile Creek and Lake View road. There were 44 blocks with 1861 lots each 33 x 120 and priced at $250 to $750 each. One of the streets laid out was Burke Ave. which is still in use. All that the Gatlings had spent was for digging a huge pit which they said was for cooling the big casting they would make. This hole could be seen till 1942 when the Penn. Railroad took all the soil around it for fill on their bridge job. By this time a Mr. J. D. Bootwick of Simcoe, Ont. who had bought a number of lots had already erected a few cheap houses. There was also a large saloon on North Creek Road completed and the shoe factory had machinery in it, but it was never operated. Later Geo. Heath of North Evans bought the building and used the lumber to make a house for his berry pickers. About 1950 he tore this building down and used the lumber again in the addition to his home.

After the big day both Companies faded into thin air. The farmers soon got their farms back by returning the deposit that had been made on them. Seems the contracts were written that way. John Hail was the only exception. He insisted on going over to the Bank of Hamburg to have them approve it before he would sign it. As a result he was the only one who was able to keep the $1,000 down payment and get his farm back.

In the meantime other speculators had come into the market and bought many nearby farms. The 200 acre Byron or Heath farm was sold to a Mr. Lincoln who surveyed it into 378 building lots. James Frost sold his 100 acre farm in 1892 to John Wm. Prouse who sold a few lots and laid out Pleasant Ave, North Evans which is still in use. Mr. Frost got his farm back in 1896. Many pieces of property changed hands many times, but in a short time conditions were back to normal and the Great Gatling Boom was over.

N. Lehman Co. built the shoe factory which was supposed to be in operation June 3, 1893, but which never opened.

The Bailey Land Investment Co. incorporated 1892, Capital $100,000. Geo. M. Bailey, president, G. C. Hardesty V. Pres. H. E. Coat Treasurer, G. L. Allen Sec., of 24 Erie Street, Buffalo advertised stock in the following Companies:

Leroy S. Oatman Produce Co., Capitol Stock $75,000 shares $100 each

J. J. George Furniture Co.	$25,000	$100

Hamburg and Vicinity

We have a correspondence this week from the name of a so called, "city," where not a sod has been broken, where no house of any kind exists, and where there is nothing but blank fields; this may be good for "land boomers," but it is misleading and deceptive; we much prefer facts to fancy that honest values may bring honest dollars and dollars honest values; let plain fact be told and all judge for themselves as to their respective interests.

3 March 1893

Esquire Burke gives us the following information in regard to the Gatling Town Site Company; 1200 acres have been purchased; this is bounded on the South by center of the Idlewood, North by highway leading from Lake View to Hamburg East by, Egle farm and West by the farm laying along the line of the Lake Shore Railway; the contemplated open works will be between highway running down beside the stream named and the bank; a boulevard is to be built East & West through the plot, and a big hotel built on boldest store of the Idlewood; land has been purchased from $75 to $400, when cut into lots will bring $1000 per acre; most land inside of lines named has been secured yet some, including Graham property remains in original owners hands; a portc is to be made in and of the timberland on Sicker farm, etc; anticipation is on tips toe; by waiting time will reveal all things, to suspecting and unsuspecting mortals.

5 May 1893

We are often asked, why we do not boom this, and boom that; our answer is:

If, by overdrawn pictures, fictitious values prevail, and then, if on false statements in Independent, unsuspecting individuals purchase so-called building lots, and pay largely in excess of values, we would in reality be an accessory in swindling farmers, etc. Well, this is why we do not lend our voice to boom. Let every one, "look a little out," in purchases, but, sell for ready cash at good prices. We expressed these views to a gentleman on train May 3; he pulled out two protested checks, That is, these checks were given on banks where the man did not have one dollar on deposit, and for these worthless pieces of paper he secured deeds of farms from unsuspecting farmers; one of these boozers checks was for one thousand dollars, and the other for a large amount, both were for purchases on the bathing tract; we do not say, this is swindling, but our readers will call it by what name they please; we are down on all this system of boozing; farmers should not attempt to do much business without legal advice; good lawyers at Hamburg, in City, whose services for nominal amounts, may, and often will save, ten times in sales made, amounts paid them. Remember, that certain classes of boozers are schemers. Let our readers be wise and act accordingly.

How to boom a town; that is the question? Well to illustrate: Once an old man and his wife bought a barrel of cider, jointly, paying $5 each; they added 100 per cent profit and called each ones interest $10, or $20 for the barrel; then, each paid the other five cents every time a drink of it was taken; so they passed the nickel back & forth between them, till each received the full equivalent for the $5, or $10 invested; thus cider boomed. A boy, once, gave a good jack knife to another boy for another knife and got a woodchuck skin to boot; jack knives more than boomed.

A man sold a big dog for $500, but took two small dogs at $250 each;
of course there was a great boom in dogs.
Our readers will see that cider boomed,
jack knives boomed and dogs boomed.
Now this fitly illustrates many land booms;
the fact is, cutting acreage up into lots, making swaps and dicker, or selling to unsophisticated individuals on installments does not ~~a~~ boom a town, nor help its business interests. It is said, "He who makes two blades of grass to grow where one grew before is a public benefactor."
Let us say: He who builds a dwelling and gets a good family to come and occupy it is a public benefactor. It is said, and we believe correctly, that 50 men came to Hanbury, this spring, looking for homes, who found no dwellings to occupy and went away again. That which will soon Hamburg, is as plain as the way to market; 50 citizens in Hanbury can, build one house each and 50 families brought here inside of current fiscal year;
and the same or more each succeeding year;
remunerative rents can be obtained; who will move in this matter; no cider, jack knife, nor big dog boomer; if holes are dug in the ground, it should be for cellars, not for big guns. Oh no, but who says cottages, and all dwellings or city or other tenants must have cellars; houses for rent should be convenient but need not be over expensive. We make up friends, and see what can be done?

9 June 1893

Gatling was formally opened to the public June 3. The Courier says, 3,000 people were there and $22,000 in lots sold; there was a big tent and lunch servd. Mr. Bailey, president of the association said, the Gatling Ordnance Company, which includes some of the most prominent men in the United States, had decided to build a steel plant for the manufacture of structural steel and heavy cast steel ordnance at that place; he explained as to the Town Site Company. Dr. Gatling the inventor said, the United States, needed over $60,000,000 worth of modern guns to take the place of those that were obsolete, and Congress had already appropriated $6,000,000 for the purchase of such ordnance as a starter; he predicted that in a few years Buffalo would have 1,000,000 inhabitants, and Gatling would be a thriving manufacturing suburb that could avail itself of the great electric power from Niagara Falls. Lots were sold as high as $365, average price $215, or at the rate of $1,500 to $2,500 per acre: The Express says: "Real estate men who visited the Gatling inaugural predict that the town will contain 5,000 people in two years; nearly all of the large dealers bought property at the auction: The erection of the furnace building will be begun as soon as the material is placed upon the ground: The Lehman Shoe Company has built its factory which is now in operation; this firm will employ about 50 hands and the Gatling Ordnance Company will employ 1,000 men. The large purchases made yesterday and the sums paid for lots were surprising even to old real estate men; the town of Gatling has been placed before the public in all the glory of electric lights and mechanical effects and those interested say the town will never die." None wish more heartily that greatest hopes may be fulfilled than the Independent; success to all honest, meritorious enterprises.

The Erie County Independent, 8 Sept 1893

The Express of Sept 3 has the following:
Very little change is reported in the situation at Gatling; the ordnance company received a letter from Mr. Gatling a few days ago in which he suggested that the gun pits at South Boston be inspected before the company continued further with the specifications for the large gun factory which it is proposed to erect at Gatling; oh, ho, just so; why was not this thought of sooner?

29 Sept 1893

It is with regret that we learn that the shoeshop, and switch at Gatling have been sold at Sheriff's sale; a granary made into a telephone office, which Esquire Burke occupies occasionally is all that marks the spot of the widely heralded city of Gatling. During season many estates remained uncultivated, farmers not knowing whether they owned them or not, as options were given, little or no payment made while contracts unfulfilled. Whether many cases are tweedle-dee or tweedle-dum, none can tell.

15 Dec 1893

The Industrial Land Co., successor to the Gatling Town Site Co., embraces many solid men of Buffalo, and others; they recently paid up $16,000 and more old claims, being for land, labor, etc.; the company will go slower and on a more solid basis, and encouraging results are anticipated the coming season.

Town of Hamburg Sesquicentennial 1812-1962
Reflections Through the Years, illustrated history of Hamburg (chapter 8, The Gay Nineties, p. 65)

"The Lake Shore real estate development produced one financial fiasco in the early 1890's, which left a bitter memory with many Buffalonians - as well as with residents of Hamburg. In December of 1892, it was announced that the Gatling Steel Gun Manufacturing Company, with one million dollars capital, had been induced to locate a new plant in the town of Hamburg, at the point where the Lake Shore Railroad crosses Eighteen Mile Creek - about a mile from the lake. It was proposed to deepen the creek for boats up to this point and build a new town for the accommodation of the employees. Surveys were made, the Gatling Town Site was incorporated and proceeded to buy up all the surrounding land at rapidly increasing prices - several times what the sites could have been obtained for a year earlier. Many prominent Hamburg residents invested in the company. The Site was formally opened for sale June 3, 1893, and over $22,000 worth of lots were sold. The Gatling Company, having spent some money in construction, abruptly changed its corporate mind and abandoned the project. Within a few months, the stock of the Gatling Town Site Company was almost worthless. The railroad station, previously changed from Idlewood to Batting, was changed back to Idlewood. Several years later, the unused plant of the Batting Company was purchased by the Queen City Bicycle Company which, in August 1896, moved its plant from Buffalo and contributed much to the growth of the Lake View area.

Published by Gatling News Co., Editors and Proprietors. Address 473 William St., Buffalo, N.Y. entered at the Post Office as second class mail matter.

Go To Gatling

The Arrangements for the Grand Excursion Complete
Free Ride, Free Music, Free Lunch

All the details of the grand free excursion to Gatling are now completed. There will be two special trains on the W.N.Y. & P.R.R. leaving the Exchange Street Station at 10 a.m. sharp; also from Exchange street at 1 p.m. Trains returning will leave Gatling at 6 p.m. Orders for tickets, free tickets, bear in mind, can be had at the office of the Town Site Co., No. 24 Erie Street.

Excursion Notes

Over 3,000 tickets have been given out, and the excursion promises to be a grand success.

After the dedication, visitors will be allowed to inspect the property of the Gatling Town Site Company, surrounding the site of the steel works.

The big tent, to hold 1,000 people, for the luncheon to be served by Caterer H. W. Weeks of New York to-morrow noon, is being erected under Mr. Week's own supervision.

A telegram received yesterday afternoon states that a car load of intending investors are coming from Gloversville, Clyde, and vicinity; and letters from other points indicate that the attendance will be very large from all over Western New York.

The streets of the new town are all made, the lots are all numbered, and the improvements going on on sides ought to impress the visitors favorably. It is expected that the shoe factory of the N. Lehman Company will be in operation to-morrow.

An order was wired on Wednesday to the Union Metallic Cartridge Company for 500 rounds of ammunition, which, if it arrives in time, will be used in firing a salute in honor of the event from the Gatling machine gun which has been on exhibition in Buffalo for the past few weeks.

The first special train for the dedication will leave Buffalo at 10 o'clock a.m. sharp, from the Central station, over the Western New York & Pennsylvania Railroad. It will consist of 10 coaches. No stops will be made till the train arrives at Batting, when it will be run out on the siding, which extends for half a mile across the Town Site Company's property.

The part in to-morrow's exercises to be taken by the Gatling Ordnance Company will consist of simply the laying of the corner-stone of the main furnace buildings by Dr. R. J. Gatling, the famous inventor, at 11 a.m. No oration or display will be made, nor any effort at oratory on the occasion, but Dr. Gatling will outline the plans for the coming summer's work.

Mr. Jerry Johnson, Jr., president of the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange, and for 35 years the leading real estate man in New York City, will conduct an auction sale of lots, beginning at 1:30 P.M. This will be a unique feature of the day's proceedings, and will be especially watched by real estate men. Mr. Johnson will arrive in the city at 10 o'clock on Friday morning, accompanied by his sons, Remond and J.B.S. Johnson. Mr. Johnson ascribes the great success of his business to the fact that he always sells property to a purchaser standing upon the lot that he buys, and not from a map of property unseent. This fact, together with the easy payment plan, has enabled him to sell more than 200,000 lots in the vicinity of New York and Brooklyn, and to build several flourishing towns on Long Island and in New Jersey.

Town of Norway, reminiscences of local celebrities:

p. 215 John Coe was something of a wit and wag. On Independence day a celebration was to come off at Coe's store, of the rum and gunpowder kind. A blacksmith's anvil that was to serve as a cannon was found missing on the eventful morning, and while the crowd were searching and wondering, the old anvil spoke from a swamp a mile distant, where Coe had conveyed it the previous night and engaged a "pal" to fire it at a given time. "Wonder what calf that is bating" remarked Coe as the report was heard. Coe once lent his harrow to his neighbor Moses Gage, who failed to return it before wanted, when Coe sent him the following laconic letter:

"Mr. Gage I ante you in rage;
I write to you in sorrow
To let you know, before I sow,
That I must have my harrow."

It is needless to add that the harrow was returned forthwith.
